

Pat Falci – General A.P. Hill

Ever since the movie Gettysburg, where Pat created the role of General A.P. Hill, he has been enlightening the public about “Lee’s Forgotten General.” Come and hear about the life of General A. P. Hill and the making of the movies “Gettysburg” and “Gods and Generals”.

About our Speaker:

Pat, a native of Astoria NY, has gained fame not only for his role as the General A.P. Hill, from Gettysburg, but also as director/screenwriter Ron Maxwell’s historical advisor for both that movie and Gods and Generals. Pat provided casting director Joy Todd and the actors with photographs and research for both films and even scouted out locations in Maryland and took Maxwell on a Stonewall Jackson tour of Civil War battlefields and other historical sites. Pat has served as Jeff Shaara’s historical advisor, providing research and tours of Civil War sites portrayed in his books.

Pat has spoken to countless civil war roundtables throughout the country and is a recipient of many honors and rewards throughout the civil war community. For 19 years, Pat has been the face of General Ambrose Powell Hill. Before that, he was a Civil War re-enactor for 15 years with the 14th Tennessee Archer’s Brigade, Hill’s Light Division.

It’s the love of preservation that has prompted a lifetime membership in the Civil War Preservation Trust (CWPT) and a school program called “The Life and Times of the Civil War Soldier.”
