

July 18 Bruce Mowday – “Three Views of Gettysburg’ (A combination from his 3 books)

Bruce will combine the three Gettysburg books, whose ancestor was wounded at the Wheatfield. Bruce didn't set out to write about Gettysburg. He will describe why he believed the Pickett's Charge book was necessary. The book led to his work on the largest private collection of artifacts of Gettysburg. The podium used by Lincoln is in the collection and Bruce had an opportunity to stand behind the artifact as PCN filmed a show on his book. The third book takes a look at the history and legacy of Gettysburg.

THREE VIEWS OF GETTYSBURG, combines Bruce's three books, Pickett's Charge: The Untold Story, J. Howard Wert's Gettysburg and Emotional Gettysburg.

Three Views of Gettysburg: The talk will combine the three Gettysburg works of author Bruce E. Mowday, whose ancestor was wounded at the Wheatfield. Bruce didn't set out to write about Gettysburg. He will describe why he believed the Pickett's Charge book was necessary. The book led to his work on the largest private collection of artifacts of Gettysburg. The podium used by Lincoln is in the collection and Bruce had an opportunity to stand behind the artifact as PCN filmed a show on his book. The third book takes a look at the history and legacy of Gettysburg.

Bruce has written four Civil War books, three on Gettysburg, “Pickett's Charge: The Untold Story”, “Wert's Gettysburg”, & “Emotional Gettysburg” and one on Fort Delaware in the Civil War. “Three Views of Gettysburg” is a combination of his three books.
