

April 18      Bob O’Conner – “Sarah Slater – Confederate Spy & Lincoln Conspirator”

Bob likes to write about significant characters who most people have never heard of. Sarah Slater fits those criteria. She was a courier for the Confederacy, carrying messages from Richmond to their Secret Service office in Montreal, Canada. She was in cahoots with John Surratt, Jr. and knew John Wilkes Booth. She disappeared after Lincoln's assassination and was never found. She is the Missing Lincoln Conspirator.

About our Speaker:

Bob is retired, but remains a full-time author with over 30 books now in print, mostly about the American Civil War. He has spoken over 1,500 times since his first book came out in 2006 - including numerous times with my friends at the Hershey Civil War Roundtable.
